Well Managed Debt Maturity Profile

■ Corporate bonds
■ Bank borrowings & others

Company is in active discussions with international and domestic creditors to lengthen maturity profile in a stabilizing interest rate environment

- Short-term bank borrowings are mainly used to finance general contractor activities to minimize borrowing costs, which can be revolved within credit limit and will be rolled-over prior to maturity
- Current portion of long-term loan will be repaid using pre-sales proceeds generated from both retail and bulk sales transactions
- In 1H2026, Vinhomes incurred borrowings for the following purposes: loans to pay land-use fees for the Cam Ranh, Vinhomes Global Gate Ha Long, Global Sportia and receipt of proceeds from bonds issued in late December 2025 for debt restructuring purposes.

Visible Sustainable Growth

- Robust top-line growth is expected to be driven by key existing projects including Green Paradise, Golden City, Green City, among others underpinned by a record unbilled sales backlog of VND 196.8 trillion as at the end of 2Q2026 from newly launched projects including Vinhomes Saigon Park, Vinhomes Global Gate Ha Long & Vinhomes Hai Van Bay
- Presales growth is expected to be fueled by the launch of new projects in HCMC, Da Nang, Quang Ninh... alongside ongoing sales across existing developments, supported by both retail and bulk sales channels.
- Focus on owner-occupier demand across large-scale integrated townships under ESG++ standards, prioritizing green, smart, and sustainable developments, while advancing TOD projects and social housing in rapidly urbanizing, well-connected areas to support population decentralization and new economic hubs.

Favorable Macro Tailwinds

- Vietnam is expected to maintain resilient economic growth in 2026, with a GDP growth target of 10%+, stable credit conditions and well-managed inflation, positioning the country among the region's top performers.
- Supported by a favorable macroeconomic backdrop, positive administrative reforms and continued infrastructure rollout, Vietnam's real estate sector is well positioned for a new growth cycle.
- Improved capital access, clearer legal frameworks, and improved inter-provincial connectivity are expected to reinforce demand for integrated urban developments, particularly benefiting developers with strong balance sheets, high-quality land banks, and proven execution capabilities.
